

pharmaceutically acceptable carrier, suitable for administration to a mucosal surface.

97. A composition for use in treating an infertility condition as in claim 96 wherein the composition comprises a vaginal gel.

Remarks

After amendment, claims 50-97 are pending in the application. The highest claim number used in the international application was 49. This amendment is submitted to bring the claim numbering into conformity to United States practice following submission of amendments under Articles 19 and 34 in the international phases of the corresponding PCT application, and ensure a commonly accepted claim numbering and content prior to entry of prosecution of the U.S. national phase. This amendment is submitted prior to the calculation of the basic filing fee and in anticipation of a first office action.

Respectfully submitted,

COLEMAN SUDOL, LLP
